Area Persons Recognized In Blood Program

Blood donors and volunteers were honored December 7,1975 at the 25th Anniversary Celebration of the Appalachian Red Cross Blood Program. A representative out standing donor and volunteer from each chapter received plaques of appreciation.

The plaques were presented at a party at the Roanoke Valley Red Cross, marking a quarter of a century of operations by the blood center. It opened December 7,1950.

Roanoke Mayor Noel C. Taylor discussed the significance of the program to the community.

Mrs. Rusty Erskine, Chairman of Volunteers for the Appalachian Division of the Red Cross, reviewed the history of the blood program.

Dr. Haarry I. Johnson, Jr., the center's medical director, discussed the future of the program.

Twenty-seven Red Cross chapters and the Town of Taxewell participate in the blood center program which serves 35 hospitals in Southwest Virginia and part of eastern West Virginia, an area with a population of 989,490. The Center also regularly sends blood to six hospitals outside the region.

Winners Announced In Contest

Winners have been selected in the TIMES-VIRGINIAN Christmas Coloring Contest sponsored by local merchants. With hundreds of children 10 years of age and under submitting pictures they had colored, it was very hard for our judges to select first, second, and third place winners as so much talent was shown in so many of the pictures. It would be nice if everyone could have won, but in all contests there have to be both winners and losers.

Vivian Seay of Route 2, Appomattox has been selected as first place winner in the contest. Vivian is nine years old and she will receive a check from the TIMES-VIRGINIAN for $15.00 for first place prize. Second place in the contest goes to Beth Caldwell of Route 3, Appomattox. Beth is also nine years old and she will receive second place prize in the amount of $10.00. Randy Scott of Route 1, Spout Spring has been selected as third place winner in the contest. Randy is eight years old and he will receive from the TIMES-VIRGINIAN a check for $5.00 for third prize.

Honorable mention goes to the following children for their entries in the contest: Angela Pugh, age 10; Michael Hamlett, age 6; Frankie Foster, age 10; Terry Wayne Guthrie, age 5; Liz Pierce, age 9 (all of Appomattox); and Chad Robertson, age 6, of Annandale.

Congratulations to the winners and to all contestants on their entries. There apparently are a lot of talented children in our area.

Quota Reached At Bloodmobile Visit Tuesday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile made its third visit of the five planned for this fiscal year to Appomattox on Tuesday from noon until 6 p.m. With 102 units of blood needed to reach its quota, 105 pints were donated at the Tuesday visit as Appomattox County citizens came through once again and kept our county 100% of its quota. Congratulations and thanks to all donors and to the many volunteer workers who give of their time at the visits of the Bloodmobile to this county.

Budget Approved By Town Council

"It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas" down on Main Street in Appomatox as seen in the photo above taken in the morning hours as the sun was rising and casting shadows along the street. Decorations downtown are up and Christmas lights have been turned on by the Town of Appomattox.

Decrease From 1975

The Appomattox Town Council approved the budget for 1976 at their meeting on Monday night of this week at the Town Hall.

The budget, as adopted, calls for operating expenses amounting to $215,834.00 for 1976 as opposed to a $297,280.00 total budget adopted for 1975. These figures show a decrease in the budget of $81,446.00.

The 1975 budget included $130,000 expenses for payment on the Appomattox County School's electric charges. Under an agreement with the School Board and the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors, the entire $130,000 was to be reimbursed, however, the town realized a savings on the budget when VEPCO's request for a rate increase was denied by the State Corporation Commission. The total electric bill paid by the Town of Appomattox and reimbursed by the School Board and Board of Supervisors was approximately $40,000.00, less than anticipated. If the VEPCO rate is unchanged, the 1976 budget should be sufficient.

$134,204.00 was approved for expenditures from the General Fund, $62,230.00 was approved for expenses for the Water Fund, and $19,400.00 was approved for Sewer Fund expenditures.

Of the $134,204.00 allocated for the General Fund, $65,340.00 will go for Administrative expense; $23,510.00 goes to the Police Department; $4,025.00 to the Fire Department; the [illegible] will receive [illegible] a total of $26,060.00 and $14,651.00 to the Sanitation Department.

Total proposed budget allocations will be published at a later date.

In other business, council made final plans for the Town of Appomattox's Annual Supper to be held at 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 15, 1975 at the Parkway Restaurant. At this time, volunteer members of the Appomattox Fire Department will be honored.

Conservationists, Developers, "Get Down To Earth" At Training Session

Fifty architects, engineers, developers, contractors and local erosion control officials from Amherst, Appomattox, Campbell Counties and Lynchburg attended an erosion and sediment control training session in Lynchburg recently. Conservation planning to control soil erosion on the development site from the very beginning was emphasized. Without adequate planned conservation, construction sites erode more than 1,000 times faster than rural land. When uncontrolled erosion reaches crisis proportions, irreparable damage has occured, law suits are threatened and erosion control is more difficult to achieve.

Sediment depletes the land from which it is derived and pollutes the water courses. Lynchburg College Lake is a prime example of sedimentation. Much of the original lake is now a marsh.. Research estimates that it costs 20 times more to remove sediment from the water courses than to stabilize the soil on its original site.

Robert McClenny, Jr., USDA SCS, Appomattox-Campbell - Lynchburg, reviewed local problems caused by erosion and sediment. Site selection and using soil survey data and techniques of controlling erosion and sediment using
